

Foreign Languages & Literatures: Majors and Minors

Dr. Richard Shryock, Chair (shryock@vt.edu)
Dr. Andrew Becker, Associate Chair (andrew.becker@vt.edu)
Pam Saville, Lead Staff for Orientation (psaville@vt.edu)
331 Major Williams Hall; 231-5361/5362
www.fll.vt.edu

The Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures offers a variety of majors and minors. When possible, the department also offers a number of languages beyond those listed below, and provides a range of opportunities for study abroad. See the web site above for details.

Languages with Majors and/or Minors

Advisors: due to study abroad programs, many advisors will not be available until mid-August for in-person consultations. However, they will be available via e-mail.

Latin, Ancient Greek, Classical Studies:

Contact: Dr. Andrew Becker (Andrew.becker@vt.edu)

French:

Contact: Dr. Sharon Johnson (spjohnso@vt.edu)

German:

Contact: Dr. Debra Stoudt (dstoudt@vt.edu)

Dr. Richard Shryock (Shryock@vt.edu)

Russian:

Contact: Dr. Nyusya Milman (nmilman@vt.edu)

Spanish:

Contact: Dr. Jessica Folkart (jfolkart@vt.edu)

Languages without Majors or Minors Available.

The following languages are also offered at Virginia Tech: Arabic, Greek (Modern), Italian, Hebrew, Mandarin Chinese, Japanese.

ADDING A SECOND MAJOR or MINOR: For those wishing to add a second major or a minor in Classical Languages, Classical Studies, French, German, Latin, Russian, or Spanish, the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures will hold information sessions for each language during the first week of fall classes. Dates, times, and locations will be announced at a later time.